We are so busy! Most of us have more than one job to do, and we never seem to have enough time. We are workers, volunteers, parents, friends, and most of us are more than one thing at a time. But which of these is the work of God?

We seldom view our ordinary work as being the work of God. We may think that we have to be ministers or priests, missionaries or charity workers, engaged full-time in works formally identified as being "God's work." But everything we do with a faithful heart and with love for others is God's work. We each have our own role to fill in the world, and many gifts are necessary. We cannot always see the direct connection of our daily work to the plan of God. But we trust and we believe that God leads us to do what is needed, where it is needed. What is "God's work?" This is the work of God, that you believe in the one he sent.

A Letter from Most Reverend George Niederauer, Archbishop of San Francisco

Dear Father,

On May 1, 2009, I wrote to you about the outbreak of swine flu here in California, across the country, and around the world. As a consequence, I put in place for all public Masses in the Archdiocese of San Francisco a liturgical adaptation affecting the offering of Holy Communion under both Species, the distribution of Holy Communion on the tongue, the Sign of Peace, and the practice of holding hands while praying the Our Father.

In recent weeks, many priests have asked me to re-consider the imposition of this adaptation. I have consulted with medical experts who agree that, in the present circumstances, it would be reasonable to remove this adaptation, effective immediately. With this letter I am informing you of the removal of this adaptation.

However, you probably know from frequent news reports that the number of swine flu cases continues to grow throughout this country and around the world, and it is generally expected that this flu may return in the fall.

Indeed, a swine flue vaccine is being readied for use later this year.

As you explain this present decision to your parishioners, please make clear to them that, if changing circumstances indicate, the adaptations may be re-imposed. Of course I urge you to continue the ordinary precautions listed in my earlier letter in order to protect your own health and that of others.

Let us pray for all of those who have suffered and died from this illness. May God bless you and your parishioners, and keep you always in His loving care.

*Fraternally in Christ,
Most Reverend George Niederauer
Archbishop of San Francisco*
